2012 SLIS Doctoral Research Forum

October 6, 2012
9:00 am to 4:30 pm
E174 Wells Library

9:00-9:20    Coffee and pastries
9:20-9:30    Welcoming remarks, introduction of Lorcan Dempsey
9:30-10:30   Guest Speaker: Lorcan Dempsey
10:30-10:45  Coffee Break
10:45-11:15  Scott Weingart  "The Networked Structure of Early Modern Science"
11:15-11:45  Chaoqun Ni     "Examining interdisciplinarity through Academic genealogy network – a case study of sociology"
11:45-12:15  Peter A. Hook "The Deaning of American Law Schools: Metrics and Networks from 1926 - 2011"
12:15-1:15   Lunch
1:15-1:45    Erjia Yan      "Finding knowledge paths in scientific disciplines"
1:45-2:15    Lili Lin       "Finding Topic-based Experts via a Topical and Weighted Factor Graph Model"
2:15-2:45    Chun Guo      "Knowledge Retrieval for Scientific Literatures"
2:45-3:00    Coffee Break
3:00-3:30    Timothy D. Bowman "The Development of a Socio-Technical Version of Frame Analysis for Investigating Interaction in Social Network Sites"
3:30-4:00    Guo Zhang     "GLOBALIZATION OR LOCALIZATION? A longitudinal study of successful American and Chinese online store websites"
4:00-4:30    Closing remarks and announcement of prizes